On September 27, and October 17, 2006, the above-referenced matter came on for hearing in Department 73 of the above-entitled court, the Honorable Mark W. Snauffer, Judge, presiding. The appearances of counsel were noted on the record. The matter was taken under advisement. The Court, having considered the papers on file and the arguments of counsel, rules as follows.

I. INTRODUCTION

Petitioner requests that an OSC issue, ordering respondent to show cause why it should not be held in contempt for failing to comply with the writ of mandate issued by this court.

The court issued a writ of mandate, commanding

1 respondent to reinstate the decision of the hospital's Judicial 2 Review Committee, which found that Selma Community Hospital's 3 termination of petitioner's hospital privileges was neither 4 reasonable nor warranted. Respondent has appealed that decision; 5 this court has determined that the appeal did not automatically
6 stay enforcement of the writ. Respondent's request to the Court 7 of Appeal for a writ of supersedeas was denied. Thus, the writ of 8 mandate may be enforced despite the appeal.

9 Petitioner requested reinstatement of his hospital 10 privileges pursuant to the writ of mandate. Respondent has 11 refused to restore those privileges. Respondent asserts, among 12 other things, that the writ of mandate did not require respondent 13 to reinstate petitioner's privileges and that it can no longer 14 grant petitioner hospital privileges in any event.

15 II. DISCUSSION

16 Acts constituting contempt of court include 17 "[d]isobedience of any lawful judgment, order, or process of the 18 court." (Code Civ. Proc., § 1209, subd. (a)(5).) When a contempt 19 is not committed in the immediate view and presence of the court, 20 a contempt proceeding is initiated by presenting to the court an 21 affidavit of the facts constituting the contempt. (Code Civ.
22 Proc., § 1211, subd. (a).) The affidavit need only make a prima 23 facie showing of the elements of contempt. (Crawford v. Workers' 24 Comp. Appeals Bd. (1989) 213 Cal.App.3d 156, 169.) Those elements 25 are: (1) that the court made a lawful order, (2) that the person 26 cited for contempt had knowledge or notice of the order, (3) that 27 the person was able to comply, and (4) that the person willfully 28 disobeyed the court order. (Id.) If the prima facie showing is

1 made, an order to show cause why the person should not be adjudged
2 in contempt for his disobedience is issued. (In re Morelli (1970)
3 11 Cal.App.3d 819, 832-833.)

4 A. Lawful Order.

5 The declaration of Barbara Hensleigh establishes that 6 the court issued the writ of mandate on June 15, 2006. This court 7 determined that enforcement of the writ has not been stayed by 8 appeal. The court has not been given any notice of a stay by the 9 appellate court, and respondent concedes in its paper that its 10 request for a writ of supersedeas was denied. Thus, it appears 11 the writ of mandate is a lawful judgment or order of the court.

12 B. Knowledge of Order.

13 As petitioner argues, respondent's knowledge of the 14 order is demonstrated by its filing of a return to the writ with 15 this court on July 17, 2006, its filing of the request for writ of 16 supersedeas, and its notice of appeal. The Hensleigh declaration 17 sets out the facts of the filing of a notice of appeal and a 18 return to the writ of mandate. (Hensleigh declaration, ¶ 10.) It 19 also states that Hensleigh sent a letter to respondent's attorney, 20 Jerry Casheros, on June 22, 2006, in which she asked that Casheros 21 advise her when petitioner could resume practicing medicine at 22 Selma Community Hospital (SCH) pursuant to the judgment granting 23 the writ. (Hensleigh declaration, ¶ 7.) On the same date, she 24 received a letter from Casheros in which he asserted petitioner
25 could not become a member of the medical staff until he applied 26 for privileges with the new consolidated medical staff and his 27 application was approved. (Hensleigh declaration, ¶ 8.) Thus, it 28 appears petitioner has made a prima facie showing of respondent's

1 knowledge of the order.

2 C. Willful Disobedience.

3 The fourth element petitioner must show to obtain 4 contempt is disobedience of the order. Respondent asserts that it 5 did not disobey the writ, because the writ did not require it to 6 reinstate petitioner's staff privileges. The peremptory writ of 7 mandate (Ex. C to Hensleigh declaration) provides:

8 "YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED immediately on 9 receipt of this writ to set aside your 10 decision of July 7, 2005, in the 11 administrative proceedings entitled In re: The 12 Matter of Brenton R. Smith, M.D. and to 13 reinstate the decision of the Judicial Review
14 Committee of March 31, 2005 as the final 15 decision by you."

13 The court also commanded respondent to file a return to the writ 14 by July 17, 2006, setting forth what it had done to comply.

15 Respondent asserts the writ did not mandate that 16 petitioner be immediately reinstated at SCH. It argues that the 17 effect of the writ was simply to place petitioner in the same 18 position he was in prior to termination of his hospital
19 privileges. At the time of termination of his hospital
20 privileges, however, petitioner was a member of the medical staff 21 at SCH, with privileges to practice there. Thus, reinstating the 22 JRC's decision that termination was improper would return 23 petitioner to the position of having privileges at SCH.
24 Accordingly, immediate reinstatement of those privileges was 25 implicit in the writ. Respondent apparently recognized this. In 26 its return to the writ (Ex. G to Hensleigh declaration), 27 respondent noted petitioner's request to commence to practice at 28 SCH, but asserted it "cannot comply with the Writ of Mandate in

1 the manner of reinstating Dr. Smith to SCH." It did not assert 2 that reinstating petitioner's privileges is not required by the 3 writ, but only that it could not do so.

4 Respondent now contends that the writ only required SCH 5 to put petitioner in the same position he was in prior to 6 termination of his hospital privileges, and, if his privileges had 7 not been terminated, he would have been required to apply for 8 privileges with the Consolidated Medical Staff, which is the 9 medical staff of SCH after consolidation of the SCH medical staff 10 with the staffs of two hospitals in Hanford, which occurred while 11 the writ proceeding was pending (in the fall of 2005). Respondent 12 contends immediately reinstating his privileges at SCH without 13 requiring petitioner to apply for privileges with the Consolidated 14 Medical Staff would put petitioner in a better position than if 15 his privileges had not been terminated.

16 However, it appears that requiring petitioner to apply 17 would put him in a worse position than if he had not been 18 terminated. If he had not been terminated, he would have had 19 privileges at SCH. He would have continued practicing at SCH 20 while his application with the Consolidated Medical Staff was 21 pending. If he is required to apply with the Consolidated Medical 22 Staff and receive a decision on that application before he can 23 practice at SCH, he may have to wait 120 to 240 days for final 24 action on his application. (Bylaws, Ex. E to the return, which is 25 Ex. E to the Hensleigh declaration, § 4.5-11(e).) The current 26 bylaws provide for temporary clinical privileges while an 27 application for permanent medical staff privileges is pending, 28 "provided ... that the applicant has ... no involuntary termination

1 of medical staff membership at any other organization." (Bylaws, 2 § 5.6-3.) Thus, respondent's contention that petitioner would be 3 in a better position if allowed to immediately return to the SCH 4 staff than if he had not been terminated is without merit.

5 D. Ability to Comply with Order.

6 The more difficult issue is whether petitioner has made
7 a prima facie showing that respondent has the ability to comply 8 with the order. In his motion, petitioner states that respondent 9 had, and continues to have, the ability to reinstate petitioner to 10 the SCH medical staff. The supporting declaration, however, does 11 not contain any specific facts showing an ability to comply.

12 At the time petitioner's privileges at SCH were 13 terminated, he held privileges only at SCH. His privileges at two 14 Hanford hospitals, Hanford Community Medical Center and Central 15 Valley General Hospital, had already been terminated. Those 16 terminations are currently the subject of an action filed in Kings 17 County Superior Court. All three hospitals have the same owner, 18 Adventist Health. (Rawson declaration, p. 2, n. 1.) Respondent's 19 return to the writ of mandate, which is submitted as an exhibit to 20 the Hensleigh declaration, asserts (as does respondent's 21 opposition to the current motion) that, in the fall of 2005, SCH
22 and the Hanford hospitals "consolidated into one medical staff."
23 Respondent asserts the SCH medical staff no longer exists, so 24 petitioner cannot be reinstated as a member of that medical staff.

25 The declaration of Richard Rawson, submitted in 26 opposition to this motion, states that he was President of SCH 27 until September 2004, and from then to the present he has been 28 Chief Executive Officer for Hanford Community Medical Center

1 (HCMC). He states that, from 1999 to 2003, SCH was operating at a 2 significant financial loss. (Rawson declaration, ¶ 2.) To avoid 3 closure, a sale of the facility was attempted, but no buyer could 4 be found. (Rawson declaration, ¶ 3.) Rawson then approached the 5 Adventist Health Board of Directors and proposed the consolidation
6 of SCH into the Hanford license. (Rawson declaration, ¶¶ 4, 5.)
7 The process ultimately decided upon involved SCH voluntarily
8 retiring its license as a health care facility and then leasing 9 its facilities to HCMC. SCH would not merge with HCMC, but would 10 stop functioning as a health care hospital, with HCMC handling the 11 operations of the facility under HCMC's hospital license. (Rawson 12 declaration, ¶ 7.) The medical staff of SCH would not be merged 13 into the HCMC medical staff; it would be dissolved. Prior to 14 final dissolution, each physician was advised that if he or she 15 wanted to continue to practice at SCH, he or she would need to 16 apply for privileges to the Consolidated Medical Staff. (Rawson 17 declaration, ¶ 8.) New medical staff bylaws were prepared and 18 approved by the Consolidated Medical Staff. (Rawson declaration, 19 ¶ 9.)

20 Respondent makes the following arguments:

21 (1) There is no independently licensed facility known 22 as SCH and no separate SCH medical staff to which petitioner can 23 return.

24 (2) Petitioner cannot be granted privileges at SCH 25 without becoming a member of the Consolidated Medical Staff; if he 26 is placed on the Consolidated Medical Staff, he will have 27 privileges at all three hospitals, including the two Hanford 28 hospitals where his privileges have already been terminated.

1 (3) Arranging for petitioner to have privileges only at 2 SCH would create two classes of medical staff and require new 3 bylaws; a single consolidated facility like HCMC cannot legally 4 have more than one medical staff.

5 (4) Granting petitioner privileges with the 6 Consolidated Medical Staff would usurp the authority of the Kings
7 County Superior Court to determine whether petitioner's privileges
8 were properly terminated at the Hanford hospitals.

9 (5) Returning petitioner to practice without a review
10 of his skills would potentially jeopardize patient care at SCH.

11 (6) This court should defer to the Court of Appeal, 12 which respondent contends denied its writ of supersedeas because 13 the time during which petitioner applied for privileges with the 14 Consolidated Medical Staff and the application was considered and 15 acted on would sufficiently delay his reinstatement so that a stay 16 of enforcement of the writ would not be required.

17 1. Reorganization of hospitals.

18 The fundamental issue is respondent's first argument, 19 which is mentioned in its preliminary statement, but not expanded 20 on. The implications are discussed only briefly in the argument 21 portion of respondent's points and authorities, which states:

22 "Furthermore, the Motion for Contempt would 23 have this Court adjudicate the rights of, and 24 issue orders to an entity, HCMC, not a party
25 to these proceedings. As SCH no longer 26 carries an independently (sic) license to 27 operate an acute care facility, Petitioner can 28 only be allowed to practice at SCH under HCMC's license. Issuing an order compelling HCMC to allow Petitioner to practice under its medical license would ask this Court to reach far beyond the scope of the Selma Writ Proceeding, i.e., a determination of the propriety of Petitioner's termination at SCH."

1 (Opposition, 7:22-27.)

2 The issue is whether circumstances have changed so that 3 respondent is not the proper entity to compel to restore 4 petitioner's privileges at SCH, and the proper entity is not a 5 party to this proceeding and therefore cannot be compelled by the 6 writ of mandate to grant him privileges. This is arguably the 7 effect of SCH ceasing to function as a hospital under its own 8 license and continuing to operate under the HCMC license, and of 9 the dissolution of the SCH medical staff and creation of a 10 Consolidated Medical Staff.

11 The respondent named in the writ proceedings is "Selma 12 Community Hospital" and the Rawson declaration states that SCH and 13 the two Hanford hospitals are all owned by Adventist Health.
14 Rawson does not discuss what sort of entities the hospitals are or 15 in what manner the business of SCH passed to HCMC, if it did.
16 Thus, it cannot be determined whether HCMC is a successor of SCH, 17 so that it could have been treated as a continuation of the same 18 business entity and added as a party. SCH never raised this issue 19 prior to entry of the judgment granting the writ of mandate, 20 although the change in the organization of the hospital apparently 21 took place in October of 2005. (Opposition, 4:17.) Petitioner
22 was not alerted to the change in time to seek to join HCMC as a 23 party, if appropriate, prior to judgment.

24 It is undisputed that Selma Community Hospital continues 25 to operate. In his reply, petitioner argues that SCH is still 26 defending itself in this proceeding and in the Court of Appeal, 27 and it continues to exist as a "free standing separately 28 identified hospital." He submits a copy of a record of the

1 Secretary of State, from its website, which indicates "Selma
2 Community Hospital, Inc." is an active corporation, and a page
3 from SCH's website, which petitioner contends shows Selma 4 Community Hospital, Inc. is continuing to operate as a full 5 service hospital with over 100 physicians on staff. The page from 6 the website shows a picture captioned "Selma Community Hospital," 7 and contact information is listed as "Selma Community Hospital, 8 Inc.," with an address and phone number. The description of the 9 hospital, however, includes the statement: "A rural 57-bed acute
10 care community hospital ... that operates as a service of Hanford 11 Community Medical Center as of October 2005."

12 Thus, there is a serious question regarding whether SCH
13 is the proper entity to command to reinstate petitioner's 14 privileges at SCH, and whether SCH currently has the ability to 15 comply with the writ of mandate. There also appears to be a 16 question regarding whether respondent failed to provide this 17 information to petitioner and the court and continued to defend 18 itself, so that petitioner would continue to expend his resources 19 and waste his time obtaining a meaningless victory.

20 2. Consolidation of medical staffs.

21 Respondent's second and third arguments are essentially 22 facets of the same argument. Respondent contends that petitioner 23 cannot be granted privileges only at SCH, and not at the two 24 Hanford hospitals, and to do so would require revision of the 25 bylaws and impermissible classes of physicians. Respondent
26 contends that the Consolidated Medical Staff is governed by bylaws 27 which grant staff members privileges at all three hospitals.
28 There are no provisions for granting privileges only at one or

1 another of the three hospitals. Respondent asserts that granting 2 petitioner privileges only at SCH would violate Health and Safety 3 Code section 1250.8, subdivision (b), which provides:

4 " (b) The issuance of a single consolidated license 5 shall be based on the following criteria:

6 " (1) There is a single governing body for all 7 of the facilities maintained and operated by 8 the licensee.

9 " (2) There is a single administration for all 10 the facilities maintained and operated by the 11 licensee.

12 " (3) There is a single medical staff for all
13 of the facilities maintained and operated by 14 the licensee, with a single set of bylaws, 15 rules, and regulations, which prescribe a 16 single committee structure. ..."

17 Respondent seems to argue that, to return petitioner to 18 the medical staff at SCH, which no longer exists, would require 19 creating a separate medical staff for SCH or two separate classes 20 of medical staff for HCMC (one for petitioner and one for all 21 other staff physicians), which would violate the requirement that 22 the hospitals operated under a consolidated license have a single 23 medical staff. Respondent also argues it would require a separate 24 governing body with separate bylaws, because the consolidated 25 bylaws "do not contemplate such an arrangement."

26 However, the statute does not proscribe separate classes 27 of staff members, just separate medical staffs. SCH is not being 28 asked to create a separate medical staff for petitioner to join.

1 The consolidated bylaws in fact provide for "categories of 2 membership." (Bylaws, § 3.1) The categories include "active, 3 consulting, courtesy, provisional, administrative, honorary and 4 retired." (Id.) The bylaws also provide for temporary 5 privileges, which may be granted "during pendency of that person's 6 application for permanent medical staff membership and 7 privileges." (Bylaws, §§ 5.6, 5.6-3.)

8 If petitioner's hospital privileges at SCH had not been 9 denied, petitioner would have continued to practice at SCH until, 10 in the course of consolidation, he and all the other physicians 11 with hospital privileges there were told the SCH medical staff was 12 being dissolved and to continue practicing at SCH they would have 13 to apply for privileges with the Consolidated Medical Staff. Like 14 the other physicians with privileges at SCH, he would have 15 continued to practice at SCH while his application for privileges
16 with the Consolidated Medical Staff was pending. Thus, petitioner 17 can be returned to the same position he would have been in had his 18 privileges not been improperly terminated by granting him 19 temporary privileges at SCH while his application for permanent 20 privileges is pending, conditioned on his submitting an 21 application within a specified period of time.

22 It does not appear granting petitioner temporary 23 privileges only at SCH would violate the bylaws. The bylaws 24 define "clinical privileges" as "the permission granted to a 25 medical staff member to provide patient care." (Bylaws, 26 Definitions, ¶ 5.) "Hospital" is defined to mean "either Central 27 Valley General Hospital, Selma Community Hospital or Hanford 28 Community Medical Center, or both as applicable under the

1 circumstances." (Bylaws, Definitions, ¶ 6.) The bylaws provide 2 that, "a member providing clinical services at this hospital shall 3 be entitled to exercise only those clinical privileges 4 specifically granted. Said privileges and services must be 5 hospital and campus specific, . . . and consistent with any 6 restrictions thereon." (Bylaws, § 5.1.) Thus, contrary to 7 respondent's representations, the bylaws appear to permit
8 privileges that are limited to one hospital ("hospital and campus 9 specific") or are limited in other respects. Temporary clinical 10 privileges may be granted "for the care of specific patients."
11 Presumably, such privileges would be limited to the facility where 12 that patient was located.

13 Thus, it does not appear granting petitioner temporary 14 privileges only at SCH would be impermissible under the bylaws or 15 would violate Health and Safety Code section 1250.8, so long as 16 there is only one medical staff, governed by one set of bylaws, 17 rules and regulations.

18 3. Usurping the authority of the Kings County court.

19 Respondent contends granting petitioner privileges to 20 practice at the Hanford hospitals would usurp the authority of the 21 Kings County Superior Court to determine whether the termination 22 of petitioner's privileges at those hospitals was proper. As 23 previously discussed, however, respondent is not being asked to 24 grant petitioner privileges at any hospital other than SCH.
25 Consequently, this argument does not demonstrate an inability to 26 comply with the writ of mandate.

4. Review of petitioner's skills.

Respondent contends that returning petitioner to practice without a review of his skills would potentially jeopardize patient care at SCH, because petitioner has not practiced at a hospital in over a year. However, it was only because of respondent's improper termination of petitioner's privileges and the litigation that ensued that petitioner was denied the opportunity to continue to practice while the review process was proceeding. In any event, SCH can oversee and evaluate petitioner's skills and performance in the same manner it does with every member of its medical staff. This argument does not demonstrate an inability to comply with the writ.

5. Deferring to Court of Appeal.

Respondent asserts this is the second time petitioner has asked the court for immediate reinstatement. The first time was when petitioner asked for a ruling that the writ was not automatically stayed by respondent's appeal. Respondent states that the court held there was no stay "and jurisdiction lies with the Fifth District Court of Appeal." In that prior ex parte application, petitioner did not ask for immediate reinstatement, but only for a determination that no stay was in effect. The result was that the writ was immediately enforceable. How respondent construes this as a denial of an order to immediately reinstate petitioner is unclear.

Respondent asserts it was asked by personnel of the Court of Appeal for information concerning its then pending application for a writ of supersedeas, and after being told

1 "that Judge Snauffer had not immediately
2 reinstated Petitioner to SCH, that Petitioner
3 had not yet applied to the Consolidated Staff, 4 and that his reinstatement would occur, at the 5 earliest, in 60-90 days from the unspecified 6 date of filing of the application, that the 7 Fifth District Court Appeal determined that 8 there was no 'imminent harm' to the hospital
9 and denied the Writ of Supersedeas."

6 (Opposition 9:13-17.) From this, respondent concludes that its 7 anticipated delays in reinstating petitioner were construed by the 8 Court of Appeal as showing there would be no imminent harm to 9 respondent requiring a stay of the writ of mandate. Respondent 10 contends that, if the court now orders immediate reinstatement of 11 petitioner, there will be imminent harm and, rather than "undo the 12 careful balance struck by the Court of Appeal, this Court should 13 defer to the Fifth District."

14 The Casheros declaration states that he received a call 15 from a clerk at the Fifth District, asking "the pointed question" 16 of when at the earliest petitioner could be reinstated to SCH.
17 (Casheros declaration, ¶ 13.) He wrote a letter to the Fifth 18 District. Instead of answering that "pointed question," however, 19 he told the court that petitioner's ex parte application to 20 prevent a stay of execution was pending, that if petitioner were 21 allowed to resume immediate practice at SCH, the Hanford 22 proceedings would be mooted. (Casheros declaration, ¶ 14.) The 23 Fifth District deferred its ruling until after this court's ruling 24 on the ex parte. (Casheros declaration, ¶ 15.) He informed the 25 appellate court of this court's ruling on the ex parte, that there 26 was no stay. (Casheros declaration, ¶ 17.) The next day, a clerk 27 from the appellate court called and asked when was the earliest 28 time petitioner could be reinstated if he filed an application to

1 the Consolidated Medical Staff. (Casheros declaration, ¶ 18.)
2 Casheros sent a letter stating petitioner had not applied, but if 3 he did, and his application was granted, he could be returned to 4 practice as early as 60 to 90 days from the filing of the 5 application. (Casheros declaration, ¶ 19.) The appellate court
6 then issued its order (Ex. M). (Casheros declaration, ¶ 20.)

7 The appellate court's order states:

8 "The 'Writ Of Supersedeas ...' filed on July 9 19, 2006, is denied. When asking for a writ
10 of supersedeas, appellant must convincingly 11 show substantial questions will be raised on 12 appeal. ... Appellant must demonstrate it
13 will suffer irreparable harm absent a stay 14 ..., and that its harm outweighs the harm that 15 will be suffered by respondent. ...
16 Appellant Selma Community Hospital has failed 17 to carry its burden."

18 Contrary to respondent's characterization, the ruling
19 does not indicate it was based solely on a finding of no imminent 20 harm to SCH. It sets out three elements that needed to be proved 21 and states respondent did not carry its burden. It does not 22 indicate which element was decisive; it may have found proof of 23 all elements was lacking. It may have found that the burden on 24 petitioner if the stay was granted would outweigh any harm to 25 respondent, because petitioner was already being delayed in 26 enforcing his remedy.

27 In any event, the Court of Appeal was not asked to 28 determine either whether SCH was in contempt for failing to comply with the writ or whether petitioner was entitled to have his hospital privileges immediately reinstated. Thus, the appellate court's determination does not address the issues now before this court, and certainly does not demonstrate that respondent was

1 unable to comply with the writ of mandate or was otherwise not in 2 contempt of court.

3 III. ANALYSIS

4 On balance, it appears that contempt should not issue, 5 because petitioner has not made a prima facie showing of 6 respondent's ability to comply with the writ of mandate.
7 Petitioner simply asserts that respondent can comply, and is not 8 prevented by the fact that the medical staffs have been 9 consolidated. He has presented no specific facts and made no
10 showing that SCH remains in charge of the hospital and can cause 11 his privileges to be reinstated.

12 Admittedly, this result appears inequitable, because it 13 effectively denies, or at least seriously delays, the means by 14 which petitioner can enforce his remedy. All the facts respondent 15 now argues make it unable to comply with the writ were known to 16 respondent months ago, long before final argument and entry of 17 judgment. Yet respondent never mentioned that its status had 18 changed so that any relief granted to petitioner might be useless 19 to him in his effort to restore his hospital privileges.

20 It is well settled that the court which issues a writ of 21 mandate retains continuing jurisdiction to make any order 22 necessary to its enforcement. (City of Carmel-by-the-Sea v. Board
23 of Supervisors (1982) 137 Cal.App.3d 964, 971; Code Civ. Proc., 24 § 1097.) Therefore, the court makes the following orders which 25 are necessary to enforce the writ of mandate previously issued 26 herein:

27 ORDERS

28 1. The court finds that no contempt should lie against

1 respondent, or any individual associated therewith, including 2 counsel;

3 2. Respondent is ordered to reinstate the March 31, 4 2005 decision of the Judicial Review Committee ("JRC") of 5 Respondent, as required by the June 15, 2006 writ;

6 3. Respondent is ordered to file a report superseding 7 the previous reports, if any, filed by it with the National 8 Practitioner Data Bank and the Medical Board of California as to 9 the results of the writ issued on June 15, 2006 by this Court and 10 the judgment in favor of Petitioner issued by this Court;

11 4. Within fifteen (15) days hereof, Respondent is 12 ordered to reinstate Petitioner's privileges, provisionally, on 13 the Consolidated Medical Staff. Petitioner has agreed to practice 14 only at Respondent Selma Community Hospital.

15 5. Petitioner is ordered to complete and submit an 16 application for Consolidated Medical Staff privileges within ten 17 (10) days of his reinstatement.

18 6. Petitioner shall be permitted to practice on the 19 Consolidated Medical Staff at Respondent Selma Community Hospital 20 for a period of one (1) year following the submission of his 21 application, and then must reapply for privileges, as would any 22 other physician practicing there;

23 7. Except as specifically set forth herein, Petitioner
24 shall be subject to the Medical Staff Bylaws of the Consolidated 25 Medical Staff and the Rules and Regulations of the Consolidated 26 Medical Staff;

27 8. Petitioner shall be subject to ongoing peer review
28 pursuant to California Business & Professions Code section 809(7)

1 and the Consolidated Medical Staff Bylaws and shall be subject to 2 all of the corrective action procedures applicable to a member of 3 the Consolidated Medical Staff, including but not limited to the 4 limitation or termination of his privileges based upon his conduct 5 at Respondent hospital;

6 9. Petitioner shall be subject to California Business
7 & Professions Code section 809 and the Consolidated Medical Staff 8 Bylaws and rules regarding the summary suspension of his 9 privileges.

10 IT IS SO ORDERED.

11 DATED this 5th day of December, 2006.
